

NOT A DOWNY BED

Three Democratic Senators
Still Sulk

AGAINST GROVER THE GREAT

Chairman Carter Confident of Republican Success—A Wicked Bid for Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The statement that the visit of Chairman Carter here was due to anxiety on his part at the political situation was certainly not confirmed by any statements when Mr. Carter made. On the contrary, he stated very earnestly to those with whom he consulted that he was not concerned about the rainbow-chasing in the northwest. He regards the movement of the New York World, which is being sustained by the national democratic leaders to collect 10-cent subscriptions to organize a campaign in the northwest as an illustration that the democrats are convinced that New York is hopeless, and that they are preparing the way to abandon that state, hoping to concentrate their efforts in the northwest. If anything more was needed to confirm this view the following editorial utterance which has just been made by the World furnishes the proof:

"New York is a doubtful state at best. More than 1,500,000 votes for presidential electors will be cast in this state on the 8th of November. Who can forecast the result? Cleveland's plurality in 1884 was only 1,047. Harrison's plurality in 1888 was 13,002. The assumption that either can rely safely upon a plurality in 1892 is absurd. Conditions and men's minds may change between now and November, and give to the one or the other an overwhelming majority. But this is a remote possibility. There is every reason to believe that New York will remain to the day of election a doubtful state."

Mr. Carter has no serious fears as to the effect of the alliance in any of the states unless there can be a combination between the democrats and alliance people in Nebraska. He is very confident of the republican situation in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Montana. He adds that there will be entire harmony in New York and that Mr. Platt and Warner Miller will be found working as earnestly for republican success as anyone. Mr. Carter declares on the other hand that the democrats are making no progress toward unity in New York and that the anti-Tammany organization is becoming very formidable and is combating every effort of William C. Whitney to control it.

Object of Anti-Tammany Movement.

The object of this anti-snap or anti-Tammany organization is understood to be three-fold—first, the maintenance of the anti-Tammany association strong enough to be dangerous, and to give Tammany great anxiety; second, to compel consultation with its leaders before a ticket is made up for the local offices in New York City, and if such consultation is not granted to nominate a third ticket; third, to elect enough members of the legislature to give it the balance power. The last two purposes give Tammany the greatest concern. They had hoped that Mr. Whitney would be able to make good his promise by August 15, and to have worked off this danger. But Mr. Whitney stands discredited now because of the failure of his promises, and it remains to be seen whether Mr. Harrison will have any better success.

A curious illustration of democratic "harmony" in New York is the report that attention is called to the alleged fact that 400 delegates living in Mr. Hill's country, who have never voted any but the democratic ticket heretofore have signed a pledge that they will vote for Harrison this fall. The republican national committee claim to have proof of this. It is also stated that a large number of those prominent democrats who opposed the nomination of Mr. Cleveland believe that there is danger that his election would prove a greater misfortune to the democratic party in the long run than would his defeat. To put it in plain terms they think he has the "big head," that he would not stop short of a complete revision of the democratic creed, and would turn things upside down generally should he get into the White House under the peculiar existing circumstances.

Coldness of Three Senators.

There has by no means been an establishment of cordial relations between Senators Gorman, Brice, and Ransom and others of their school and Mr. Cleveland. Had it not been for the efforts of Mr. Whitney, Gorman, Brice and Ransom would not have served on any of the committees and the campaign might have run without their assistance. Their first meeting with Mr. Cleveland in New York after the notification meeting was far from cordial. It was, in fact, unfriendly and it was supposed after the interview that neither of the three senators would have anything to do with the campaign. Cleveland was riding a very high horse. Afterward the three senators were implored to go on the committee and take a prominent part in the management of the campaign. Even then they would not give their assistance until Whitney had agreed, contrary to his wishes, to go on the campaign committee himself, and shoulder the burden of the work. Whitney could not get Gorman and Brice to serve without him. As it is now, both Gorman and Brice are on the defensive and feel that they are wanted only for a convenience and will be thrown overboard as soon as Mr. Cleveland is through with them. There is an indication that Harrison is engaged in one scheme which bodes ill

Old and New British Cabinet's on the Road to Osborne.

LORD ROSEBERY'S POSITION

He Was First Cast for Secretary for Scotland—Borthwick Refuses a Peerage.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The members of the new cabinet started for Osborne today by train to accept the seals of office from her majesty. On a separate train the members of the retiring cabinet started to surrender the seals of office and to make the formal transfer of power to their successors. The liberal ministry generously cheered their opponents, who courteously recognized the greeting.

The house of commons met today and writs were ordered issued for the elections to be held in the cases of members who had accepted office under the new administration. The members then changed sides in accordance with the change of government and the house adjourned for an hour.

Before going to Osborne today there was a brief session of Mr. Gladstone's cabinet. When the house of commons reassembled Keir Hardie, labor member for West Ham, made a motion that the house ought to hold an autumn session. The speaker pronounced the motion out of order and after issuing additional writs of the election the house adjourned until 9 p. m.

Cabinet Completed. The cabinet was completed today by the appointment of Prof. J. Bryce, the distinguished writer and member of parliament for South Aberdeen, to be chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster. The Rt. Hon. George Shaw Lefevre was appointed first commissioner of public works and buildings.

The Chronicle (labor liberal) says, regarding Lord Rosebery's appointment as foreign secretary, that there was a certain amount of negotiation with reference to the position he was to be given. He was first cast as secretary for Scotland and some appointments were made with that view. Then a sudden change occurred and he was appointed foreign secretary. The Chronicle urges the labor people not to oppose John Morley in Newcastle.

Mr. Shaw-Lefevre has been appointed first commissioner of works. Sir Algernon Borthwick has refused the peerage which was offered him on condition that he transfer his seat (South Kensington) to the Rt. Hon. C. T. Ritchie, who was defeated in the St. George's division in the general election.

Treatment of Political Prisoners. The Times says that one of the principal problems of the separatists is the treatment of so-called political prisoners. It is a problem, the Times adds, that the clericals, including Messrs. Dillon and Davitt, would readily acquiesce in a postponement of the subject until the decision rest with them, but the feeling in patriotic circles on both sides of the Atlantic is too strong. The feeling affords the Parnellites a dangerous instrument with which they will keep prodding the clericals. The Times regards the meeting in Ogden's Grove as proof that dynamiting is still alive.

The Times correspondent at Paris says: The new British cabinet meets with a cool reception here, evidently on account of Lord Rosebery. The Liberator thinks that Mr. Gladstone must have subjected Lord Rosebery to conditions. The Times considers that the cabinet will be so occupied with Ireland that hankering after national glory will be repressed. The Liberator expects a new tune from "Herbert Bismarck's friend."

RELEASED BY DEATH.

The Profligate Duke of Manchester Passes Away in Ireland. LONDON, Aug. 18.—George Victor Drogo Montagu, Duke of Manchester, who has been lying dangerously ill at Tanderage Castle, county of Armagh, Ireland, is dead, at the age of 39. The duke belonged to the most profligate element of the English nobility. Notwithstanding the fact that he was comparatively young, he had up to the date of his last illness led such a life of dissipation that his constitution gave way and he has for years been a physical wreck. He is chiefly interesting to Americans as the husband of Consuela, daughter of Don Antonio Yrujo del Yalle, to whom he was married in New York in 1875.

Earthquake in Wales. LONDON, Aug. 18.—A shock of earthquake last night caused consternation in Pembrokehire, the extreme southwestern county of Wales. People were awoken, when a low, rumbling noise was heard, and the houses rocked and trembled like a ship in an undulating sea. In other parts of south Wales the earthquake was not felt so seriously as in Pembrokehire, but the disturbance was noticed as far east as Monmouthshire.

Hurt at a Horse Show. LONDON, Aug. 18.—The grand stand at the horse show at Buxton, Derbyshire, fell today while crowded with hundreds of persons. About 700 persons were down in the ruins. Fortunately there were, so far as can be ascertained, no fatalities. The Rt. Rev. George Henry Sumner, D. D., bishop of Guildford, who was present, escaped with a broken leg. Others also had arms and legs broken, and some are said to be suffering from concussion of the brain.

Battle Creek Respected the Boycott. The municipal authorities of Battle Creek, who decided last year to build a new steel bridge, but have been delayed through the Homestead difficulties, have concluded they would rather skin along without a bridge than to use Carnegie material. Following is the resolution passed by the city council: "Resolved, that the street and bridge committee cancel any or all contracts for any person or persons in regard to furnishing a bridge as contemplated by our city, if any such bridge or bridges be constructed of steel or iron furnished by the Andrew Carnegie company, as per requests of the labor organizations of this city."

Pure and Wholesome Quality. Comments to public approval the California liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. It is pleasant to the taste and by acting gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels to cleanse the system effectually it promotes the health and comfort of all who use it, and with millions it is the best and only remedy.

SSS CURES SCROFULA

Mrs. E. J. Rowell, Medford, Mass., says her mother has been cured of Scrofula by the use of four bottles of SSS after having had much other treatment. SSS ment, and being reduced to quite a low condition of health, as it was thought she could not live.

Cured my little boy of hereditary scrofula. I was a year and a half recovering, when finally I was induced to use SSS. A few bottles cured him, and no symptoms of the disease remain.

of "The Life of Ben. Harrison,

by the Author of Ben Hur"

Absolutely free.

Gen. Benjamin Harrison is a candidate for re-election. The Nation demands that the hero who led its armies in the Field, and who for four years has wisely and nobly steered the ship of state shall continue to hold the helm and guide our Nation through the perils of the future as ably as he has through those of the past. He who during the administration has saved the country from a series of threatening dangers, has brought Italy and Chile to the feet of our Republican throne, and made even England yield to American demands in the Behring Sea difficulty, is the man for the people of these United States.

Gen. Lew Wallace, who is known throughout the United States as one of the most intimate personal friends of President Harrison, and as having had a great deal to do with his re-nomination, has written a biography of the President, which reads like a veritable Romance, yet is Accurate History. The book has been officially authorized and contributed to by the heads of the government in Articles regarding the workings of the Republican policy and the Present administration. These distinguished contributors include Hon. William E. Curtis, Hon. John W. Wamaker, Hon. Jeremiah Rusk, Secretary Foster and Hon. Eugene Hale. Their topics include commercial Reciprocity, Postal Service, Progress of the Public Domain, Etc.

When General Harrison was asked his choice of a biographer he promptly replied, "My life-long friend, General Wallace." His chief advisors, interpreting the President's desire, have officially supplied the volume with most valuable contributions.

The book is a Monument to Skill and Fidelity. We offer it Free with three months' subscription to THE HERALD. The book sells for $1.50, and thousands of copies have been and are being sold. We are desirous of having such a book, brim full as it is of information of vital importance to the voter, in every home in Western Michigan. It will be referred to oftener than a dictionary, and will be read with more pleasure than a novel.
